

Devour books for a good cause!

Owning books can make a meaningful difference to a child's reading journey, yet around one million children in the UK currently do not own a single book. Having books of their own helps children to see reading not only as part of learning, but also as a source of enjoyment, imagination and comfort.

This term, we are proud to be supporting the Children's Book Project, a national charity that tackles book poverty by redistributing pre-loved and surplus publisher books to children who may have limited access to books at home.

We are inviting our pupils to unleash their inner book monster by gobbling up stories, feeding their imaginations, and raising funds so that more children can experience the pleasure of owning books. Through this initiative, pupils will be championing reading while helping to place beautiful, high-quality books directly into the hands of children who will benefit from them.

For every £5 raised, six books will be gifted to a child at an eligible primary school.
