

Group Volunteers

We can now welcome groups of up to 20 volunteers for a full or half day session at our premises in W10. We also have smaller sessions available in our regional hubs in Birmingham & Leeds.

A great opportunity to spend time together in an informal environment and to make a significant difference.

Your session will begin with a brief charity introduction before you work together to sort, curate and box donated books to be gifted to children throughout your region. We ask groups for a £35 donation per head, (with a minimum donation of £280 in London). This includes a presentation about our work. In London larger groups can opt to build and paint one or more of our Pop Up Book Huts as part of their day with us.

The value of our volunteers

Volunteers underpin everything we do. In 2020 we won a Queen's Award for Voluntary Service - testament to the importance we place on their role. Join other groups and organisations that have volunteered for us such as Chelsea Football Club, Disney Corporation, Pernod Ricard, RBKC and Innocent. We'd love to welcome you!

Other ways in which your group can get involved:

- Run a Book Drive: collect books for donation
- Raise funds: have a readathon, online book quiz or other event
- Sponsor a school: nominate a school that you'd like to receive books

"I loved every aspect of it, from the idea of the books we were choosing going directly into a child's hands, finding an old favourite amongst the pile to spending a peaceful couple of hours with others." Lucy, Volunteer

Visit <https://childrensbookproject.co.uk/group-volunteers/> to register your interest and to find out more.

