

Bring in any books you've grown out of!

Book ownership has a threefold impact on children's propensity to read, yet one million UK children do not own a single book. Without books of their own these children are less likely to see reading as an opportunity for inspiration or relaxation and longer-term will be less able to access education.

This term we are supporting the Children's Book Project by inviting pupils to bring in any books they've grown out of. The charity will then organise and gift these onwards to children with very few books of their own.

Please consider having a clear out and bringing in any books your children no longer read. Books can be dropped off between [DATES] at [LOCATION].
